STAKEHOLDER INTERVIEW GUIDE

OMB Control No: 0970-0214
Expiration date: 1/31/2025

Introduction and Instructions

Stakeholder interviews will be conducted during the onsite component of the Child and Family Services Reviews (CFSRs). The purpose of the stakeholder interviews is to collect information needed to determine whether the state is in substantial conformity with CFSR systemic factor federal requirements. However, because substantial conformity determinations can be made based on the information the state submits in its statewide assessment, stakeholder interviews may not be required to collect information about every systemic factor during the onsite component of the CFSR.

When stakeholder interviews are required, the review team interviews stakeholders who are representative of the types of organizations and individuals who participated in the development of the state's Child and Family Services Plan (CFSP), as required by regulations at 45 CFR § 1357.15(1). Individuals are selected to participate in stakeholder interviews based on their ability to respond to the Stakeholder Interview Guide (SIG) assessment questions that target the additional information needed to determine substantial conformity. In addition, careful consideration should be given to identifying and individualizing questions that should be asked of these stakeholders. The following are examples of stakeholders who may be interviewed:

- State child welfare director
- Child welfare agency administrator or program area administrator(s)
- Youth and parents being served by the agency
- Court improvement project administrator(s)
- Court system representative(s) or juvenile court judge(s)
- Guardian(s) ad litem/legal representative(s) for children
- Legal representatives for parents
- Agency attorney(s)
- Representative(s) of administrative review bodies
- Caseworker(s) from the public child welfare agency or private agencies
- Supervisor(s) from the public child welfare agency or private agencies
- Unlicensed relative caregiver(s), foster and adoptive parent(s)
- State foster and/or adoptive parent association representative(s)
- Tribal leader(s)
- Tribal child welfare staff, including program administrator(s), caseworker(s), and supervisor(s)
- Law enforcement representative(s)
- Representatives of Kinship Navigator Programs
- Major child welfare contractor(s) or service provider(s)

Review teams may interview additional stakeholders who will inform a determination of the state's substantial conformity on the systemic factors as needed. Please refer to the CFSR Procedures Manual for more information regarding how to select stakeholders for interviews.

Stakeholder Interview Guide Structure

The SIG is divided into seven sections, each of which corresponds to a separate systemic factor. Each systemic factor is composed of one or more items. For example, the Statewide Information System and Case Review System systemic factors are composed of one and five items, respectively.

The items in this instrument begin with Item 19 because Items 1 through 18 are outcome-related and covered in the Onsite Review Instrument and Instructions. Items related to the systemic factors, which are the focus of this instrument, are Items 19 through 36.

The questions are structured to use data and information provided in the statewide assessment, as well as to gather stakeholder observations and experiences about systemic factor functioning. The questions are categorized as follows:

- Data/information
- Systems/processes
- Data quality
- State-specific questions

Preparing to Facilitate Stakeholder Interviews

This guide identifies questions that may be asked during stakeholder interviews. Every question will not be necessary. Rather, the reviewers will determine the questions that will be asked of selected stakeholders to inform substantial conformity determinations for systemic factors. The reviewers select the stakeholders and relevant interview questions based on the information the state provides in the statewide assessment.

- Reviewers should become thoroughly familiar with the statewide assessment before conducting stakeholder interviews. Information in the statewide assessment will help reviewers (1) understand what the state has already reported about the functioning of each systemic factor and (2) identify additional data/information that may be needed from stakeholder interviews to inform decisions regarding substantial conformity. The review team should come to consensus on the questions to ask during each interview.
- Each systemic factor should be functioning statewide, and this guide includes questions throughout to capture this requirement. Please see Appendix A for alternate language.
- Reviewers do not have to use the questions verbatim but should not veer from the substance of a question to gather extraneous information that is not needed for the purposes of determining substantial conformity. Reviewers should note for each stakeholder that the review focuses on the most recent data and information.
- Reviewers should note that stakeholders may provide information out of sequence from the order of the stakeholder interview guide. As such, reviewers should be mindful that it is not necessary to ask questions in the sequence they are presented under each section; rather, the flow of the stakeholder interview should inform the order in which questions are asked.
- In the appendix, reviewers will find alternative language and phrasing for SIG questions, if needed. Examples illustrating how questions and alternative language and phrasing can be used during the stakeholder interview are provided. In addition, the appendix contains definitions and citations for key terms referenced in the SIG.

Section I: Statewide Information System (Item 19)

Item 19: Statewide Information System

How well is the statewide information system functioning statewide to ensure that, at a minimum, the state can readily identify the status, demographic characteristics, location, and goals for the placement of every child who is (or within the immediately preceding 12 months, has been) in foster care?

Item 19 Questions:

1. Data and information: We are interested in learning about whether the state can readily identify the following data elements for each child in foster care in the state:
 - Status;
 - Demographic characteristics;
 - Location or placement; and
 - Permanency goals.
- 1a. Reviewers may summarize or reference pertinent data/information that was provided in the statewide assessment, as appropriate for the focus of the interviews and stakeholder group being interviewed. Is there any additional data or information that you would like to provide at this time?
- 1b. If no data/information was provided in the statewide assessment or during the interview, reviewers can ask the following questions:

 - 2e. How is the state addressing these barriers so that the four statewide information system data elements are readily identifiable across the state for each child in foster care?
3. Data quality: If the state provided data/information (either in the statewide assessment or during the interview), reviewers may ask one or more of the following questions:
 - 3a. What process was used to gather and collect the data/information? How often is this data/information collected?
 - 3b. How confident are you that the data/information is accurate and reliable?
 - 3c. How do you make sure the data/information is accurate and reliable?
 - 3d. Are you aware of any limitations to the data/information?

- 3e. Does this data/information tell you everything you need to know about how this systemic factor is functioning statewide? If not, what's missing?
- 3f. What would make this data/information more helpful to you to be better able to understand how well this systemic factor is functioning statewide?

Termination of Parental Rights—§ 475(5)(E) of the Social Security Act. The agency seeks termination of parental rights (TPR) when the child has been in care for at least 15 of the most recent 22 months, or a court of competent jurisdiction has determined that:

- The child is abandoned; or
- The child's parent has been convicted of one of the following felonies: (1) murder of another child of the parent; (2) voluntary manslaughter of another child of the parent; (3) aiding or abetting, attempting, conspiring, or soliciting to commit such a murder or such voluntary manslaughter; or (4) a felony assault that resulted in serious bodily injury to the child or another child of the parent.
